Youths Pay Stiff Fines

Last February some Toronto youths found a new pastime—namely shooting through the walls, roof and windows of a cottage owned by Miss Phrona Sisson of Maple Lake.

On Monday of this week Archie Mott, 18, James Smith, 17, Craig Watling, 18, David Jubb, 16, and Colin Kelly, 16, appeared before Magistrate R. I. Moore and found to their sorrow that their escapade last February was a mighty expensive form of amusement.

Five convictions were registered with each youth being assessed $100 and $53 in costs. They boys were also ordered to make restitution for the damage caused in the amount of $122. Failing to do so they will spend 60 days in jail.

We have been very fortunate of late in this area of having very little vandalism around our cottages. Apparently anyone caught in such an act can expect little sympathy from magistrate R. I. Moore.

Letters to the Editor

The following is a copy of a letter sent to the Peterboro Examiner by the Haliburton Lake Cottagers Association.

"In two recent articles in your paper, you have reported severe criticism of a resolution to the Department of Transport from the Haliburton chamber of commerce. This criticism has come from many groups in your city including your city council.

It is quite apparent all these groups have missed the whole point of this resolution. They have, apparently, done considerable negative thinking on this but have given no thought to the reasons for such a resolution.

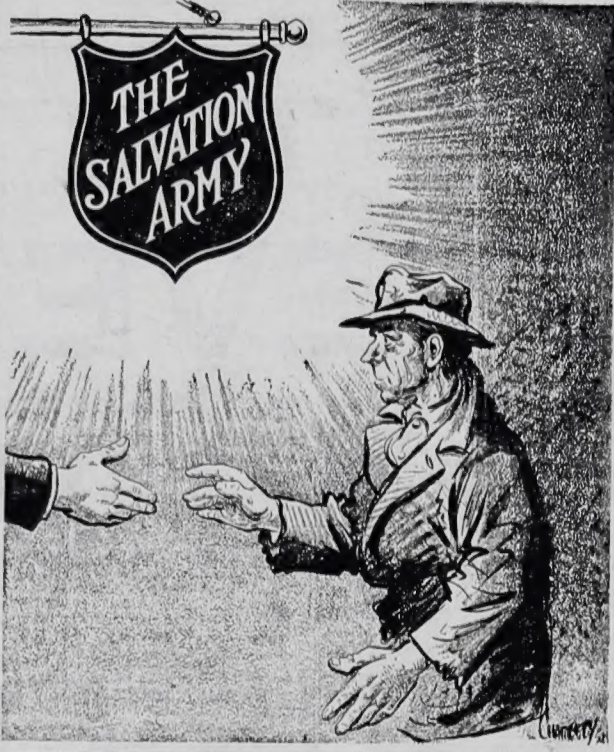

"In your first article you reported a statement by Mayor McBride to the effect there was no thought given, in the resolution, to the lower regions of the waterway. The city council have decided, wrongly, the people of Haliburton wish to deprive the lower regions of water.

"In your second article, you state the resolution will receive favorable consideration from Ottawa because one member of parliament owns considerable property in Haliburton county.

"It is not the intention of Haliburton county to deprive Peterboro of water, but to try and convince the Trent canal authority to find additional storage for water other than the developed lakes in the county.

"The member you refer to, but do not name, is Mr. C. W. Hodgson. Mr. Hodgson has been asked, in writing, by many groups and councils in the county of Haliburton to attempt to have corrective measures taken in regard to water levels. He is acting on behalf of the county because he has been asked to do so by the people of his riding. It would be wise of your city council and yourself to acquaint yourselves with Mr. Hodgson's views of this situation rather than proceed on incorrect assumptions.

A LIGHT IN THE DARKNESS OF DESPAIR

New Service Station Opened

Walker's Texaco station, on the Minden by-pass, is now open for business.

This new station, owned and operated by Lloyd Walker of Minden, will offer complete service station facilities and a licensed mechanic is employed.

A snack-bar, in connection with the service station, will be open by May 19.

An official opening is planned for the July 1 week end.

STUDENT MINISTER FOR MINDEN

This past week marked the arrival of a student minister of the United Church of Canada to the Highlands of Haliburton.

He is Mr. Douglas Heard of Belleville, a third year student in arts at Queen's University and a candidate for the ministry.

His duties will include services at the Blairhampton church and in a number of our summer lodges through the highlands as well as extending and intensifying the ministry of the United church being carried on by the Haliburton and Minden-Carnarvon pastoral charges.

tions. If this is done, I believe you would find Mr. Hodgson has proposed a method by which more water would be added to the system from new reservoir sources. This additional water would lessen the demand from the developed lakes in Haliburton County without lessening the flow in the lower regions of the system.

"Since 1904, the traffic on the Trent canal has increased by more than 20 times but the increase in the supply of water has been little or not at all. At the onset of the canal, there were 64 reservoir lakes on the system. These were situated in both Haliburton and Peterboro counties. With the ever increasing amount of traffic and demand for water on the canal system perhaps it would be wise to find out how many reservoir lakes the system now has under control.

"You also state in your second article, the water levels have been established

MESSAGE FROM DIEFENBAKER

"The Salvation Army has a record of good works, inspired by kindness and generosity, that has earned the highest commendation. To enable it to carry on its work, its annual Red Shield campaign will commence on May 1, and I commend it as deserving of the fullest support of all Canadians."

—Rt. Hon. John Diefenbaker

John Fee Dies Of Exposure

John Fee of Hamilton died of exposure after floating for five hours in the chilly waters of Green Canoe Lake on Tuesday evening last.

The victim, who was in his 67th year, was fishing from a 12 foot dory and it would seem that his line caught on the bottom of the lake and in endeavoring to get it loose, upset the boat.

Mr. Fee apparently tried to get the boat ashore but was unsuccessful and floated around on the icy waters for five hours before his body was located by Provincial Constable Mounstevan of Haliburton.

Coroner Dr. L. H. Carroll, who investigated the accident, attributed the death to exposure. The water temperature at the time the body was discovered registered only 42 degrees.

Green Canoe Lake is one and a half miles from the Harburn tower.

Several From Local Area Attend New Party Rally

CCF leader Hazen Argue pledged last Friday night in Lindsay that Canada's New Party to be born this summer would ensure free education up to and including university if it governed Canada.

"We will not tolerate the wasted talents and blighted futures that are the result of allowing the wealth or the poverty of parents to determine who will and who will not be allowed to develop his capabilities to the full," he told a meeting.

Argue did not say how the free education would be provided.

Subsidize Families

He said, however, one step they would take would be to increase family allowances by as much as 60% and continue as long as the child was at school.

He also challenged the Conservatives and Liberals to open their books to public inspection.

Compel Labor

Mr. Argue said he made the challenge in the face of proposed federal legislation to compel labor unions to open their books.

Amid applause he declared:

"I can tell you that the unions have nothing to hide and that they have already opened their books.

"But I challenge the Liberal and Conservative parties to do likewise."

New Store At West Guilford

A fine new store under an old familiar name will open its doors to the public on Thursday, May 18.

We are not going to tell you all the details nor the changes that have been made—we want you to see for yourselves and meet the new proprietors Buddie and Ken Stevens.

As you no doubt know Ken's grandfather, the late Nelson Stevens, operated a successful grocery store at this location for a number of years and now the grandson is taking over and is ready to open on Thursday.

See page two for full details.

Former Minister Accepts Call To Ottawa

Toronto is losing a vital Christian voice with Rev. Gordon Smyth moving to Ottawa, subject to Presbyterian approval.

Mr. Smyth has accepted a call to succeed Rev. Dr. Norman Coll, OBE, 30 years minister at Parkdale United.

Since coming to Toronto in 1949 Gordon Smyth has never backed away from an issue and has made the news pages lively with his comment on contemporary affairs.

In appreciation of his work a group of businessmen is giving Mr. Smyth and his wife a five-week holiday in the British Isles. They leave the middle of the month.

Good luck goes to Mr. Smyth on his trip—and his new post.

HALIBURTON NEWS LETTER . . .

Much comment is being heard regarding the new parking regulations made by the council. The regulations are for the safety and convenience of the general public. In some cases a little inconvenience may be experienced but on the whole we think that council are to be commended for their action in this matter. There will always be opposition to any progress made by any municipal body. I can well recall the howl that went up when council had the audacity to put the cows off our streets. Very few today would condemn council for putting an end to a state of affairs that was making us the laughing stock of the country, but council at that time came in for plenty of opposition.

A group of Canadian National Telegraph men have been busily engaged this past week installing the poles for the operation of the new radio satellite transmitter in Haliburton. We might add that this has nothing to do with T-V reception which locally, of late, could stand some improvement.

We are glad to report that Mr. Jack Lyons, who has spent considerable time on his back in Sunnybrook hospital, Toronto, is making, what we hope, will be a recovery to better health. The Echo learns that Jack is able to be up and about for brief spells and we are sure that his many friends will be pleased when he is able to return home. There are a whole lot more pleasanter things to do than just lay on your back day after day and stare at the ceiling.

Work commenced this week on completing the fencing of Evergreen cemetery. The cemetery was partially fenced a few years ago but lack of funds prevented the completion of the project. We are proud of the appearance of this hallowed ground but we can't say the same for some of the shacks that adorn the road between Haliburton and our cemetery.

EDITORIAL

An Ever-Present Help

In 95 years the amazing Salvation Army founded by General William Booth in England has spread its mission, movement and welfare to 91 countries. The power of spiritual and material help without question has surmounted all barriers.

The Salvation Army has marched beyond the doors of stately churches. It has carried the gospel of the Samaritan to the scenes of squalor and poverty and suffering, to the horrors of battle fields, to the terrors of disasters. When those stricken look up, the hand of the Army is there to help them.

Organization of the Salvation Army appears to have less red tape than any other in the world. In emergency, the Army succor appears by magic. There are no fanfares, no headlines, no forms in triplicate, no legislative debates, no chest thumping, no dunning for funds and fees, and no question of color, condition or creed.

There is hope for the spirit, food for the hungry, to those who need either. And with all go the friendly smiles and strong helping hands of the men and women workers.

Throughout Canada the Red Shield appeal of the Salvation Army will, it is certain, be warmly supported.

Lands & Forests Report— TROUT SUCCESS ONLY FAIR

Although the weatherman cooperated and the anglers will left nothing to be desired, the opening day of trout fishing could only be described as fair. Lindsay district fish and wildlife officers conducted a dawn to dusk creel census on Saturday, and results indicated that fishing was not quite as good as last year.

The area north of the Kawartha lakes saw restricted angling because of the partial or full ice cover. Here anglers easily outnumbered fish caught 10 to one. Stream fishermen after the wily trout in the area bounded by No. 7 Highway and Lake Ontario fared a little better.

Shelter Valley Creek, Ganaraska River, Wilmot Creek, Baltimore Creek and some lesser known streams were favored by an army of fishermen who spent most of their time trudging up and down stream in search of their elusive quarry.

Some of the best fishing of the day was seen at the Garden Hill pond of the Ganaraska authority. Castleton pond was another good producer, two parties of two men catching 12 and 16 speckleds, respectively.

Fish checked by the officers ranged from the usual nine to 10 inch speckleds to 16 inch brown trout, and several rainbow trout of the four to six pound variety. There is a report that a 9½ pound rainbow from Wilmot Creek was landed.

Observers felt that the water was more like "normal" springs—not as high, muddy and rushing as it was the last two springs. Perhaps the clearness of the water for this time of year contributed to the lack of success experienced by many ardent anglers.

BANK OF MONTREAL

As the third season of the St. Lawrence Seaway gets underway, it can already claim an impressive record of achievement, according to the Bank of Montreal's Business Review for April, just issued.

The bank says that the Seaway's early record provides "reassuring evidence that this enlarged maritime artery to the heart of the continent is already, despite inevitable growing pains, expanding and facilitating the flow of trade, and that it will continue to do so."

The review recalls the official opening of the Seaway by the Queen and Mr. Eisenhower two years ago and points to the contrast between that ceremonial occasion and the admission of 17 waiting ships to the waterway at the start of the third season on April 15.

This routine passage of regular cargo vessels indicates clearly that the seaway—a dream which took more than 50 years to become a reality—is now a going concern, the B of M says.

Technical Problems

However, it adds, there have been some technical difficulties, as was inevitable in the initial operation of such an extensive engineering complex.

Notably, there were serious delays in April 1959 as hundreds of ships waited to enter the seaway for the first time. Both ships' crews and lock operators were also inexperienced at first, and there were some accidents.

"But the seaway has steadily improved in efficiency and safety, and improvements are still proceeding," with transit times through the locks being cut sharply, the review adds.

Current controversy is based on the fact that tonnage carried through the seaway has been less than the objectives set up by a toll committee in 1958. These tolls were set so as to produce sufficient revenue to pay off construction costs in 50 years.

But the B of M believes the estimates—for an annual movement rising from 25 million tons to 33 million in the first three years should not be considered as arbitrary standards.

Hence, that "the experience of the Seaway in its first two seasons has fallen somewhat below initial and necessarily conjectural predictions is scarcely cause for disappointment or alarm," the B of M review concludes.

In Memoriam

Pocock—In loving memory of my dear father, Stewart Pocock, who passed away September 27, 1959, and mother, Ida Pocock, who passed away May 10, 1960:

One by one they go before us
They are fading like the dew,
But we know they are waiting for us,
They the good, the fair, the true.

They are waiting for us only
Where no pain can ever mar,
Dear ones who left us lonely
Watch us through the gates ajar,

There a father, there a mother,
Gone within those gates afar.
I'd like to think when life is done,
Where ever heaven may be

That they'll be standing at the door
Up there to welcome me.
—Ever remembered by daughter Pearl.

Watson—In memory of a loving husband and father, Fred, who passed away May 12, 1960:

His memory is our keepsake,
With which we'll never part.
God has him in His keeping
We have him in our hearts.
—Sadly missed by wife and family.

Hellems—In loving memory of a dear father, father-in-law and grandfather, Roy Hellems, who passed away May 24, 1960:

One year has passed since that sad day
When one we loved was called away,
God took him home—it was His will;
Within our hearts he liveth still.
—Ever remembered by John and Isabelle Rivers and granddaughters.

LUTTERWORTH COUNCIL

Lutterworth council met last May 3 at the residence of Wm. and John Hounsell with all members present along with road superintendent Dean Leary.

The minutes of the April meeting were read by John Hounsell.

Moved by Roy Brooks, seconded by John Harrison, that the minutes of the April meeting be adopted as read. Carried.

Moved by Roy Brooks, seconded by Art Hodgkinson, that culverts be ordered for township roads. Carried.

On the evening of May 2 reeve Wm. Hounsell of Lutterworth and reeve Lawrence Pritchard of Minden met to discuss the cleaning up and supervision of the garbage disposal grounds. At this meeting they came to a mutual agreement for the supervision of these grounds. It appears most people do not go to the proper place to dispose of garbage, but dump it on the road allowance as well as private property near the grounds. This must be stopped for sanitary reasons as well as it being untidy and a hazard when it comes time to burn the refuse.

In this respect it was moved by Roy Brooks and seconded by John Harrison, that a by-law be passed for the supervision of the garbage disposal grounds and a fine of $50 be imposed on any person or persons disposing of garbage of any kind on any municipal road or private property in the township of Lutterworth. Carried.

Moved by Oliver Greer and seconded by Roy Brooks, that a by-law be passed to employ Mr. Wm. Gordon Ruttie for the purpose of supervising the garbage disposal grounds. Carried.

It would be greatly appreciated if the people would give the superintendent their full co-operation.

Moved by John Harrison, seconded by Art Hodgkinson that Roy Brooks be appointed to look after the building of a shelter for the caretaker. Carried.

Moved by Oliver Greer, seconded by Art Hodgkinson that the road maintenance account amounting to $1,435.59 be paid. Carried.

Moved by John Harrison, seconded by Oliver Greer, that a municipal building be built at an approximate cost of $7,000. Carried.

Moved by Roy Brooks, seconded by Art Hodgkinson that the meeting adjourn until June 7 at 7.30 p.m.

IN QUEST OF YESTERDAY A HISTORY OF HALIBURTON

by NILA REYNOLDS

(COPYRIGHTED)

Instalment Forty-Two THE MINDEN STORY Chapter 11

Just as the trapping profession was often followed by more than one member of a family, participation in the logging industry seemed almost to be an inherited trait handed down from father to son. In the Gouldie family which originated in England and settled on the Bobcaygeon road north of Minden both father and sons worked for local logging firms, Samuel Gouldie as a camp cook and his son John for Rathburns and the Gull River Co. as a teamster.

Working conditions for horsemen in those early days were not of the best. For only a dollar a day he was expected to work with his team from daylight until darkness supplying his own wagon and equipment and paying for his blacksmithing out of his own pocket.

Archie Gouldie however, after shantying for some years, became a guide for tourist parties in the Dwight area which he pioneered with his wife, Annie Bradley. Together they established Dorset's first tourist lodge, "Gouldie Manor" which for 40 years enjoyed a wide patronage by summer guests from all over North America.

Mr. Christopher Snell was the first member of that family to settle in the vicinity of Minden. Born in Simcoe County, Mr. Snell moved to the west side of Deer Lake in Anson township in 1871 when his son John was two years old. A second son, Isaac, was born on the homestead in 1874. Both Isaac and John Snell became foremen in the logging camps while a third son, Fred, like his father, chose to remain a farmer.

In 1924 John Snell became an inspector of dams on the Trent valley canal system and in this capacity supervised the construction of a number of dams and bridges throughout the county.

During his many years as a shanty foreman, John Snell encountered a wide variety of perplexing situations which taxed his temper and his judgement—scattered timber, snow and frost in unsuitable quantities, too early a break up or ice which clogged the rivers over long, but the most exasperating problem of all occurred one spring when his drive reached the bridge at Minden village.

After spending over a month on the long drive from the upper lakes, Snell's crew were eager for the hospitality and recreation which they knew awaited them in Minden's hotels. Although he was eager to make up the precious time lost in the rapids and shepherd his block safely through to Gull Lake, from experience, John Snell decided that he might save time by surrendering to the wishes of his men. After delivering a little speech to the gang explaining the company's position and the necessity of running the logs on to Gull Lake as quickly as possible, he made what he felt was a fair offer, "I'll stand treat, boys," he declared. "Here's four dollars hard cash. We'll spend two dollars in each hotel and when that's done we'll take the drive on down."

Of course this met with everyone's approval. After agreeing to meet again at the bridge they descended on Minden's hotels like a caravan of desert wanderers who have been without water for a week. Like a drop of liquid on a sizzling griddle, the four dollars evaporated.

All too soon John Snell set about rounding up the gang from the last hotel and escorting them back to the bridge. Here a swift count of noses revealed a considerable shortage in the ranks. Leaving his depleted crew on the bridge, Snell returned to the first hotel and with some difficulty rounded up his strays.

Back at the bridge with his defectors, the exasperated foreman discovered that the first gang, bored at the inactivity, had returned to their libation. Old timers tell that John Snell had to make four or five trips to both hotels threatening the direct vengeance before his whole crew, bleary of eye and a little frayed around the edges, could be sobered up to a point where they were ready to ride heard on their drive. They say that in the old days foremen were tough customers. They had to be!

Christopher Snell, who died at the ripe age of 75 in the first decade of this century, was in some way connected with the military. Whether he served in the regular army or was connected with the frontier militia does not seem to be known. However Mr. Ed. Wright of Minden remembers how, as a child, he watched Mr. Snell's pallbearers fire a salute of several volleys across the new grave.

George Allen Rogers of Highgate, Kent County, the father of Mark Rogers and Edgar A. Rogers (for many years the clerk of the county) who for some period operated the Stinson mills in partnership, saw service with the famous "Trenton Volunteers." G. A. Rogers' wife, Alida Pomeroy who re married on March 1, 1870 at Brighton, was the eldest daughter of Rev. Daniel Pomeroy. Their son, W. P. Rogers, became a United church minister whose work in temperance and missions is well known.

Four years before the family of George Rogers settled in Minden township, William and Mary Rogers, in 1881 with their two daughters and four sons, Thomas, John, Marshall and Nelson, homesteaded Anson township.

Like so many other pioneer families, the Rogers originally came from Pennsylvania. After the American Revolution they chose to abandon their prosperous homes to settle in Upper Canada as United Empire Loyalists.

Another Loyalist who, in 1868 exchanged his home at Collin's Bay near Kingston for a farm overlooking Mountain Lake, was James Fairfield who was accompanied by his wife, Mary Steele. In later years, their eldest son James Albert Jr. married Jane Taylor, the eldest daughter of Jeremiah Taylor who had moved from Beaverton to take up land at Mountain Lake. Mrs. Jane Fairfield, a graduate of Minden's model school, became the major contributor to the Tweedsmuir history compiled by the Minden Women's Institute. Her "History of Minden" which was published several years ago in the Echo is an invaluable aid to any historical researcher. Posterity certainly owes Mrs. Fairfield a great debt of gratitude.

Other families with Loyalist connections to pioneer this vicinity are the Redners who originated across the Bay of Quinte from Belleville, the Louckes from the seaway district (there is a Louckes home in the Seaway Museum town), and Peter Minaker's family from Prince Edward County. The Hartle family, also Loyalists, will be dealt with in connection with Lutterworth township.

In many cases one member of a family taking up residence in Minden attracted others. For instance Jan Rogers' husband, Robert Gartshore, settled in Minden township on lot 5 near his wife's relatives. Both of the Gartshore sons, Milton and Frank, became foremen in the logging industry.

In contrast James Isaac Trumbull, originally from Ireland, lived for some years at Wingham before moving east to Minden. Of his five sons, only Thomas and Archie were not engaged in lumbering.

The first of the McKays to take up land in Minden were the parents of George Henry McKay who formerly lived at Wyoming, Ont. That George McKay followed the driving trade is indicated in an old account book which records that on June 30, 1894 re purchased a pair of driving boots and caulks. His son by a first marriage to Minnie Gartshore, was to become one of the most outstanding white water men ever to drive the Gull River.

In addition to his skill on the logs and in the rapids, Earl McKay established an enviable record in life saving which today would have earned him a silver medal. Besides the many drivers he aided in the course of his work, on at least two authenticated occasions this daring foreman pulled two young people from a watery grave.

The first incident occurred at the foot of Kushog lake where the block of logs was being held until the crew was ready to run Buck's slide. Tracy Johnson of Hall's Lake had been standing on the boom sticks at the deep end of the block while Earl worked along the shore. Happening to idly glance at the spot where young Johnson had been standing, the foreman saw that he was not there any more. Surmising that Johnson had fallen into the water, agile McKay ran across the logs and dove into the deep water.

After a considerable search he managed to locate the drowning man and drag him from the water with his lungs full of water.

A news clipping of the event notes that 15 minutes elapsed before artificial respiration restored young Johnson to life.

The second rescue occurred long after Earl McKay's memorable career as a driving foreman had been terminated by the world wide depression which broke the Gull River Co. It was a fortunate thing for young Clifford Smith, the eight year old son of tourist operator Wilfred Smith, that Earl McKay, who was employed as a road foreman by the Municipality of Dysart in January of 1942, was working along the Drag River when the youngster accidentally slipped into the river. Unable to swim, the child would have drowned in the icy waters had not Earl McKay plunged in and dragged him ashore.

Although Earl McKay died some years ago, both Mr. Tracy Johnson and Mr. Clifford Smith are, thanks to his heroic efforts, alive today. Such deeds should not soon be forgotten.

UNCLE DUDLEY'S COLUMN

Good Thursday morning Mr. Editor. Where or when will the water come to fill the artificial lake you suggested in your recent editorial, at a time when the natural reservoirs are scanty?

Dropped in a few days ago to call on Cousin Joe. He was quite grumpy. Income tax fever, I would hazard. He reported from the yearly statement of a trust company in which shares are owned by him, the fact that every dollar that went to shareholders, two and a half dollars approximately went for taxes. I have noted this is the average in some other reports. Rapidly moving to the welfare state—or is this it?

From reports coming in, this season should be a very good one for the tourist industry, the one big industry of the county. Let us make a supreme effort to give value to these visitors in order that they will return. We have a goodly land—let us strive to keep it so.

Ice still remains in some of the lakes at time of writing. Would have been a good year to lose a little money on wager of date it would go out.

Much has been said about the low waters in the past six months. Always a sunny side. Many projects on beaches, and other areas has been made possible to prog-winter owing to this favor-ress through the fall andable situation.

Lands & Forests Report—FOREST PROTECTION

The last few days have been rather busy for rangers at the different headquarters of the Lindsay forest district.

Over the past week end Apsley deputy chief ranger headquarters staff extinguished three fires, two of which were caused by settlers clearing land, and the other caused by careless campers. On Saturday, Gooderham headquarters rangers put out their first fire of the year. This fire was caused by people clearing their land of debris, and two acres had burned before suppression was effected.

In the Haliburton area smokers and campers caused two fires, which burned a total of nine acres. To date this year all fires in the district have been a result of carelessness by man.

Settler fires were all caused by people who went ahead and burned debris or litter without first obtaining fire permits.

after 50 years of operation of the canal. I will argue this point with you as far as the reservoir lakes are concerned. With the ever increasing demand for water from the upper lakes, the only water level that could be established is when the lakes are empty. This situation has occurred earlier each year on the lakes in Haliburton.

In view of these facts, it would be reasonable to assume the Trent canal authorities or the Dept. of Transport should have, for the past five to 10 years, been finding more storage facilities to meet the increasing demand. If this had been done, there would be no need for resolutions or deputations to Ottawa at the present time.

"If the interested parties in your city want to put their efforts into the situation they should ask that more water be found for the canal system. They would not only be assuring themselves of the necessary supply of water but would, as they should, be helping their fellow Canadians further up the system, obtain a satisfactory result for their efforts."

Yours truly,
A. B. Bonner.
